We focus on providing the best care for our residents and ensuring your quality of life is as good as we can make it.

Being independent

We like to think that choosing a care home gives residents a new perspective and a better quality of life.

We regard our residents as individuals. We endeavour to make each day as good as it can be with happiness and wellbeing at the heart of our care. We encourage you to be as active, and as independent as you choose to be, and participate in the life of our small, friendly community.

Moving into a home does not mean any loss of independence. We will involve you and your relatives in making suggestions about our services, day-to-day events and your life in the home.

Living well today

Our team at the home work exceptionally hard to make sure you're comfortable; that you enjoy your food and that you have things to do. We run a varied activity programme and like to keep our residents happy and active. We encourage mobility, fitness and wellbeing which might include a walk around the garden, board games, knitting or discussing the newspapers.

We organise outings and entertainment when everything is running normally.

If you live locally, you will be able to keep your own doctor, optician and dentist but if you are moving to be near family, we can register you with local services. Hairdressing and foot care is regularly available at the home.

Caring for you

We provide varying levels of care and we will discuss your needs to give us a good picture of who you are and any health concerns you may have. You will have a personal care plan which will influence the level of your care from residential care to more support as it is required.

Our staff are fully trained and our home manager has been with Abbeyfield Ferring for 12 years. We are a caring community within the home who look after each other. It is just like being part of a large, caring family.

Freshly cooked food

We all enjoy our food and that is especially so at Cornwell House, where meals are prepared and cooked at the home. Our experienced cook uses fresh local ingredients where possible. There is an excellent variety and our menus are nutritionally balanced to support your health needs.

Relatives and friends are welcome to stay for meals in our bright, airy dining room.

Cornwell

The accommodation at Cornwell House is located on two floors which are serviced by a lift. All bedrooms have an en-suite toilet and washbasin and we have two assisted bathrooms and an assisted shower room within easy reach of the bedrooms.

An emergency call system allows residents to ring for help at any time of the day or night.

at home

A TV and phone point is fitted in each bedroom and residents can personalise their rooms with small items of furniture.

We have lovely gardens at the rear of the home where residents sit and chat, enjoy coffee in the summer-house and stroll safely. When times allow, we use the garden for events for families and friends.
